Eight reasons why Sommerfeld's Cabinetmaking router bit set beats the competition, hands down

Arched Raised Panel doors are the perfect way to make your work truly unique and distinctive.

You don't need big, expensive equipment to make beautiful arched raised panel doors and panels. – you need the NEW Sommerfeld's Cabinetmaking Set. This newly-designed set includes 6 professional-quality router bits to make your job of building raised panels the easiest yet.

Box has flush-mounted magnetic catch.

- ▶ Marc has redesigned every bit in this set with the following improvements and upgrades.
- ▶ All 6 bits are perfectly matched in height.
- ▶ The stile and rail cutters engagement of the tongue and groove was made deeper to 1/2".
 - A. Makes joints stronger and now it matches the engagement of the shaper cutters.
 - B. Makes figuring door part sizes easier. (1/2" + 1/2" = 1")
- ▶ The drawer front bit is made much larger in diameter for a deeper cut, plus we added the roundover at the bottom to give it an ogee look. Now your drawer front matches the door front edge detail.
- ▶ The door edge bit was also made larger, plus shallower to allow for ease of mounting 35mm European hinges.
- ▶ The matching flush trim bit has a shear angle to produce superior cuts.
- ▶ The raised panel cutter is the largest diameter in the industry at 3 1/2". It includes a back cutter, which allows machining of the front and back of the panel in the same pass, giving you exactly the thickness you need for the panel to fit exactly in the stile and rails. An additional 1 1/4" diameter bearing is included to allow you to make two separate passes when doing arched raised panel work.
- ▶ Machines materials from 3/4" to 7/8" thick
